Pak court orders release of Chinese national arrested on blasphemy charges

Islamabad (PTI): A Chinese national arrested in Pakistan on charges of committing blasphemy has been freed from a high-security prison after an anti-terrorism court granted him bail, officials said on Friday.

The court order came on a day when China's new Premier Li Qiang held talks with his Pakistani counterpart Shehbaz Sharif on Thursday.

Judge Sajjad Ahmad Jan in the northwestern city of Abbottabad on Thursday granted the bail to the suspect identified as Tian after he furnished a bond of Rs 200,000 as surety.

He was later taken to an undisclosed location due to security reasons.

Dutch court bans donor who fathered at least 500 children

The Hague (AP): A Dutch court on Friday banned a man from donating any more of his sperm after he fathered at least 550 children in the Netherlands and other countries and misled prospective parents about the number of offspring he helped to conceive.

A judge at The Hague District Court ordered the halt in an injunction brought by the mother of a child conceived with the donor's sperm and a foundation representing other parents. The mother, identified by the foundation only as Eva, welcomed the court's decision. "I hope that this ruling leads to a ban on mass donation and spreads like an oil slick to other countries. We must stand hand in hand around our children and protect them against this injustice," she said in a statement. The court noted that
